The Community

Lake County is home to California's cleanest air and Clear Lake, the largest natural freshwater lake within California, and is located in beautiful Northern California, just a two-hour drive by car from the San Francisco Bay Area, the Sacramento Valley, or the Pacific Coast.

Clear Lake is famous among anglers for its bass fishing. With numerous lakes and public lands, including a national forest and two state parks, opportunities for outdoor recreation abound: hiking, bird watching, mountain biking, kayaking, boating, water sports, hunting, golfing, and more. Other leisure activities include concerts, festivals, and wine tasting.

Lake County is home to approximately 65,000 residents and two incorporated cities. Numerous unincorporated communities are located around Clear Lake and throughout the county. The primary industries are agriculture and tourism. The County of Lake has displayed its commitment to an excellent quality of life and preservation of the County's natural resources by purchasing a significant portion of iconic Mt. Konociti and by utilizing alternative energy and green practices whenever possible.

Lake County has good schools and is served by two community colleges. Life in Lake County includes relaxed living, friendly people, fun community events, and authentic small-town charm.

A Career in Lake County Government

Working in public service is an excellent career choice for those who truly want to make a difference. Providing critical community services can be extremely rewarding. One of the benefits of working in county government is the awareness that local government provides services that impact citizens most directly. County employees understand and appreciate the impact their work has on their neighbors and fellow residents of Lake County, and they see the direct, positive result of their work on a daily basis. A career in public service can provide an opportunity to utilize skills, knowledge, and experience where it can benefit many, where it can have an impact, where it can truly make a difference.
