Dear Public Health Partner,

The Healthy Aging Initiative of the California Department of Public Health is hosting the Healthy Aging California Convening on Thursday, June 24, 2021 to continue the discussion on public health's role in healthy aging and health equity. The convening keynote speaker, Dr. Reginald Tucker-Seeley, ScD, Assistant Professor of Gerontology at the USC Leonard Davis School of Gerontology, will discuss an organizational framework for defining social determinants of health to support implementation of health equity activities. This meeting will bring together state and local aging partners to identify health equity strategies that address older adult and caregiver health.

Meeting Details:

- Attendees: Public health and aging professionals from throughout the state
- Date: June 24, 2021 from 9:00am to 12:00pm
- Where: Via Zoom
- Please register at: <https://cvent.me/vwKAOL> by Friday, June 18, 2021.

Meeting Goals:

- Provide examples of specific actions aging partners can take to incorporate health equity in their work.
- Identify tangible health equity resources and tools for program implementation.
- Share next steps for continued collaboration between state and local aging partners.

On behalf of the Healthy Aging Initiative and the California Department of Public Health, we look forward to your participation at the virtual convening as we develop shared strategies to improve and support the health of older Californians.
