

2025 CHEAC Annual Meeting
Workshop Session Biographies

LHD 101 - A Curriculum-Based Approach to Exploring Careers at Local Health Departments

Alyssa Kennett, Director

Alyssa is the Director of the Central California Public Health Consortium, and prior to this was the Director of the Wyoming Office of Rural Health. Previously a Conrad Hilton Fellow, she has experience in researching the impacts of climate change on vulnerable populations and is passionate about improving the health of her community. She holds a B.S. from California State University, Fresno, and a Master of International Affairs and Master of Public Health from Columbia University. Alyssa is from Central California and loves spending time with her husband and two boys.