AI in Practice: Responsible Tools for Public Health Departments

Ian Sanford, Branch Chief

Ian Sanford serves as the Branch Chief of the Technology Integration Services Branch (TISB) at the California Department of Public Health. In this role, he leads the department's efforts in advancing secure, intelligent technology solutions that support public health outcomes statewide. Ian is the department's lead for Generative AI initiatives, driving innovation in how CDPH leverages AI to enhance service delivery, automate workflows, and improve data insights. He also oversees Security Operations, ensuring the protection and resilience of CDPH's digital infrastructure. His work bridges emerging technologies with mission-critical public health services.
