BIO:

Keirsten Mihos is the Director of the Academic Strategic Initiatives New and Continuing (ASINC) Team at the Betty Irene Moore School of Nursing. Keirsten and her team serve as the hub for program development, working with leadership to drive innovation and continuous improvement in the School of Nursing's educational offerings. She joined the School of Nursing from UC Davis Continuing and Professional Education, where she served as Director of Health Sciences and Education, managing a self-supporting master's program and building a Post-Baccalaureate Certificate and a Public Health Certificate.

Previously, she directed the Health Education Department at Kaiser Permanente, where she led patient education and corporate wellness teams throughout the greater Sacramento area. She also spent six years providing technical assistance to counties with the California Department of Public Health.
